ELAS in 2018: strength and commitment

2018 was a year of a lot of work for the ELAS Fund. In August we celebrated 18 years and once again we reaffirm our commitment to the cause of women and our mission to promote and strengthen women’s leadership by mobilizing and investing resources in their initiatives.

We have supported 71 projects. These are initiatives of women who fight for the end violence, for the insertion of women in STEM, for care among activists, for diversity and for LGBT citizenship. Women from all regions of Brazil who fight for the rights of all of us with creative strategies in the most diverse territories.

We present here our results, the exchanges that marked our 2018 and the prizes and honors we received for our work for a better world, where women and men have the same opportunities.

We dedicate our achievements of this year to Marielle Franco. We continue to work so that her struggle and resistance will remain and flourish.

We ended the year with the honor of supporting and participating in the National Meeting of Black Women-30 Years, a historic event to celebrate and evaluate the 30th anniversary of the first national meeting of black women. We have organized a number of partnerships with the British Council, Climate and Society Institute (iCS), Ibirapitanga Institute, Mama Cash, OAK Foundation, Women’s Foundation of Minnesota and individual donors, that supported the national Meeting with ELAS Fund.

We also mobilized the Brazil Human Rights Fund, the Baobá Fund, the CASA Socio-Environmental Fund and the PositHiVo Fund, our partners in the Philanthropy Network for Social Justice. We also launched, in partnership with UN Women, a crowdfunding campaign to further strengthen the black women’s movement in Brazil.
Prizes and honors

• We have received the “Destaque Laranja”, which UN Brazil and UN Women offer for concrete actions to confront, prevent and eliminate all forms of violence against women and girls.

• Our general coordinator Amalia Fischer was a finalist for the Viva Prize, an initiative of the Marie Claire Magazine and the Avon Institute to honor people who are changing the history of violence against women in the country.

• We were elected one of the 100 best NGOs in Brazil, a prize awarded by Mundo Que Queremos, Doar Institute and Philanthropy Network, who believe that the NGOs that develop good and transparent works need to be identified, recognized and used as inspiration for the other entities.
Since 2000 promoting the protagonism and the rights of women in Brazil.
